

ASSOCIATION HAS REDUCED TOBACCO SUPPLIES FOR SALE

About 5,000,000 Pounds Less On Market This Year---Buyers Refuse To Pay The Eight Cents Price.

COMMITTEE WAS FIRM AND PREPARES TO PRIZE

The Action May Not Prove Final As Another Appointment Was Made For This City
Next Tuesday.

(BY JAMES BANKS.)

For three days, beginning last Thursday, the buyers representing the Imperial, the American, the Regio, Gallaher Limited, and also buyers representing other manufacturing companies, have been inspecting samples of Association tobacco drawn from the 1909 crop grown in the counties of Crittenden, Union, Webster, Hopkins and Henderson. Buyers have been here from Owensboro, Madisonville, Hopkinsville, supplemental, as it were, to the home buyers. With these, or with several of these, the district committee has been in conference. And in consequence the committee is pretty accurately advised of the requirements of each and all. There is only pooled to the Association this year, or, say to state it in another way, the Association will have, as a close approximation, only twenty-six million pounds of tobacco of the 1909 crop for sale. I say "only" because the Association sold and shipped thirty-one million eight hundred and eighty nine thousand pounds of the 1908 crop. Of the 1908 tobacco priced, nine hundred hogsheads have been sold and thirty five hundred hogsheads remain unsold. After which brief, pertinent break in continuity, turn we again to the 1909 crop.

"Advise of our requirements," said the buyers to the committee,

"make known to us your price." "The price is eight cents," answered the committee, "the same fixed by our members in magisterial district meetings."

"We can't give eight cents," answered the buyers.

"Then it is up to the Association to prize," responded the committee. So much of the conference I have chosen to report in dialogue form for the sake of condensation—vouching for the essential accuracy of the same. Recognizing the limitations of the powers of the committee the buyers made no bids.

"Is this, then, a finality?" Members will ask.

Members may judge for themselves when I tell them the committee has an appointment to meet the buyers in this city again next Tuesday afternoon. From which it would seem neither party regards the conference just closed as a finality.

It is only logical to conjecture the committeemen have gone home, each to his several counties, to learn if members are of the same mind and resolution as to price as when the Magisterial meetings were held.

The committee is only concerned to loyally carry out the wishes of the members—only desire to act in accord with the will of a majority of the members.

Within the next few days we shall see what we shall see.

250 Good Stories.

The Youth's Companion abounds in stirring stories of adventure and heroism. One may describe an escape from accidental peril, another a strange encounter with wild creature—man or beast.

Many of these stories are true as to facts, and only disguised as to names and places. A score or more of such stories will be published during 1910 in addition to nearly 200 others—250 good stories in all, no two alike. And this is not counting the serial stories, which it is believed will be considered by old Companion readers as the best The Companion has ever published.

Every new subscriber will find it of special advantage to send at once the $1.75 for the new 1910 Volume. Not only does he get the beautiful

"Venetian" Calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold, but all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909, from the time the subscription is received.

HORSE DROWNED NEAR BACUSBURG

H. F. HAMMACK OF THIS CITY AND
BEN SMITH, A DRIVER, BARELY ESCAPE.

Team and Hack Plunge Into Muddy
Waters Of a Swollen Stream.

H. F. Hammack, of Marion, Ky., traveling salesman for an Evansville Hardware house, and Ben Smith, a driver for Willett's stable of Mayfield, had a harrowing escape from being drowned Monday afternoon near Backsburg following the heavy rain on that day.

They were driving two horses to a light drummer's back and were unable to cross a creek. A farmer, realizing their predicament agreed to pilot them through his field where the stream was navigable. All went well and they had crossed the water and started up the embankment when one of the horses balked, causing the vehicle to roll back into the water. The team fell and sank in the deep water and the hack was capsized throwing the baggage out.

One of the horses was rescued by hard and faithful work while the other animal could not be extricated from the swift and muddy waters and was drowned. The baggage was saved except a grip containing two fine gold watches and other valuable articles, which was swept away by the waters. Messrs Hammack and Smith got soaking wet and also had a close call from meeting death in the manner of the horse.

Tuesday the hack and dead horse were pulled out from the creek, the waters having subsided sufficiently to allow them to do so. Hammack and Smith left Wednesday morning to finish their trip.
